Market review

June 2010 was another tough month for equities. Concerns about the risks to recovery in Europe, the leaking well in the Gulf of Mexico and mixed signals from the US economy were the key drivers of equity markets.

In the US, the S&P500 index retreated further (-5.4%) after the previous month's sharp fall. The VIX index of implied volatility, which in April hit a two-year low of 16.1, traded above 25 for most of the month and as high as 36. Mixed data releases fed concerns over the strength of the recovery and this was reflected in weakness among cyclical sectors such as Materials (-7.1%) and Consumer Discretionary (-9.8%) while regulatory reform passing through Congress dampened sentiment towards Banks (-9.3%).

Macro data didn't provide much comfort to investors during June with the US housing market failing to maintain momentum, consumer confidence falling and the US Q1GDP growth number being revised down to 2.7%. Meanwhile the Federal Open Market Committee left interest rates unchanged at 0.25% in light of continued concerns regarding economic growth.

Increasing volatility in the equity markets saw investors opting for the safety of gold during June. With the USD depreciating at the same time, gold reached an all-time high of US$1256 and ended the month just shy of that level at $1243, up 2.5%. Oil extended its recovery to finish up 2.2% for the month while iron ore and base metals lost ground.

The key news in currency markets was China's decision to shift its currency policy to a basket of currencies rather than the dollar peg used since 2008. With a weakening economic backdrop in the US, the US dollar depreciated against most major currencies while the UK pound was boosted by the new government's deficit reduction measures.

Fund performance

The fund performed in line with the benchmark over the month of June. Key contributor to performance was Nestle. Key detractors to performance were Hewlett Packard Co, Schlumberger Ltd, Johnson & Johnson, Cisco Sys Inc, General Electric Co.
